Monday is the Birthday of Washington The Man of Imperishable Memory

—And loyal hearts in every corner of this good land will be thinking of him and rejoicing that he was 'Our Washington'

The great armies of the world now engaged in a mighty war, with all their heroic achievements, cannot show greater deeds than were accomplished by the handful of untrained men with whom Washington fought "to a standstill," the most powerful nation, at that time, in the world.

Like the man with the broken sword, Washington showed what could be done with insufficient resources, combined with an unquenchable will to succeed. That phase of his career is a perpetual lesson to his countrymen. The will to succeed is, after all, the basis and source of the best success; and today the greatest business enterprises have become great by it, more than by anything else.

are an example of it; and their clothing is an expression of what can be done in that particular field. We are trying in this business to show the same quality in selling goods as they show in making them.

GIRLS! STOP WASHING
THE HAIR WITH SOAP

Soap dries your scalp, causing dandruff, then hair falls out—Try this next time.

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it.
